NEW VIDEO: Birth watch underway for pregnant giraffe Seattle's tallest baby arriving soon!

SEATTLE—Signs of impending birth have prompted Woodland Park Zoo to ramp up its birth watch for its pregnant giraffe, 8-year-old Tufani (too-fawn-ee). The birth window for the first-time, expectant mom began in mid-May and continues to early July. For an update on Tufani and the birth watch from Katie Ahl, a lead zookeeper at Woodland Park Zoo, see the zoo's latest video here.

Stay tuned to updates on Seattle's tallest baby by visiting www.zoo.org/tallestbaby and following #tallestbaby on the zoo's Facebook, Instagram and Twitter.

Accredited by the Association of Zoos & Aquariums, award-winning Woodland Park Zoo is famed for pioneering naturalistic exhibits and setting international standards for zoos in animal care, conservation and education programs. Woodland Park Zoo is helping to save animals and their habitats through more than 40 field projects in the Pacific Northwest and around the world. By inspiring people to care and act, Woodland Park Zoo is making a difference in our planet's future ecological health and sustainability.
