

Adopt a virtual animal and show support for wildlife Zoo launches new ZooParent Digital Adoption

SEATTLE--Show your love for animals and support Woodland Park Zoo with new, first-time ever ZooParent Digital Adoptions! From laser therapy for a tapir, to acupuncture for a penguin or pouch checks for an expectant tree kangaroo and her tiny joey — when you become a digital ZooParent, your donation goes directly to Woodland Park Zoo's Relief Fund dedicated to amazing animal care.

For $40, Digital ZooParents have the rare opportunity to adopt a baby gorilla, or they can choose a red panda or Humboldt penguin to call their own. Digital ZooParents also receive the following:

- A PDF with an adoption certificate, photo of their animal and species facts
- Desktop and mobile wallpaper of their animal
- Facebook frame for their profile picture
- Online recognition

With the zoo's gates temporarily closed, critical earned revenue that funds the zoo's mission has come to a halt. Open or closed, the zoo's dedicated animal care and veterinary teams work around the clock to provide exemplary care to the zoo's nearly 1,000 animals. Right now there is an urgent need for resources to continue providing this extraordinary care.

Your support is vital to ensure the zoo can continue providing the best possible care for all of its animals, each and every day, and to connect with the community until the zoo's gates can open once more. With a Digital ZooParent adoption, you can adopt an adorable animal, show your love for wildlife and support care for animals at Woodland Park Zoo.
