This is how you zoo: Fall and winter happenings at Woodland Park Zoo

#IAmLivingNorthwest: Discover, recover and coexist

"We Are Living Northwest" is a local movement to create a Northwest where people and animals thrive together. Woodland Park Zoo seeks to unite individuals, communities, partners, and policy makers to achieve this vision collectively by committing to discovery, recovery and coexistence. From educational programs about coexisting with carnivores, to repopulation of native western pond turtles and Oregon silverspot butterflies, the zoo is dedicated to working with its partners to preserve and protect the beautiful Pacific Northwest.

To learn more about what it means to be Living Northwest, visit the zoo's Living Northwest Trail—now open—and visit www.WeAreLivingNorthwest.org for inspiration and tools to take action. Share your favorite photos of regional nature and tag #IAmLivingNorthwest.

Animal keeper talks and guest experiences

The animal keepers provide exceptional care to all the animals at the zoo, making sure they have everything they need to be healthy and happy. They also help save animals in the wild in the Pacific Northwest and around the world. Enjoy the talks and be inspired to save wildlife and their wild places. Programs are offered through April 30 and are free with zoo admission except as noted. Locations of programs are posted at the zoo's South and West Entrances. All programs are subject to cancellation due to weather or animal availability.
