

Bee mine if you love conservation

Find the perfect gift for your valentine with zoo's gift guide

SEATTLE—Show some love for animals and your sweetheart this Valentine's Day by shopping with Woodland Park's Zoo's gift guide. It features an adults-only class on animal mating and dating and more than a dozen other options and experiences that benefit wildlife, inspire conservation, and protect habitats in the Pacific Northwest and around the world. Bee sure you check out the full gift guide, but first, check out the top 5:

1. Sexy Beasts

Gift a very memorable experience for your love with an adults-only (21+) class on animal mating and dating! Sexy beasts... they're not just on the covers of spicy romance novels! zoo.org/programs/adults

2. A Date With a Fish

For just $5, you can make your next zoo visit extra special with a fishy treat for the zoo's Humboldt penguins! Stop by to feed the penguins between 11:00 a.m. – 2:00 p.m. (or until the fish run out!) daily for $5. Surprise your bestie with this extra awesome experience and the penguins will thank you too.

3. Spread the Love All Year Long

Give the special gift of unlimited zoo admission for the entire year! Memberships come in all shapes and sizes – it's the perfect fit for any animal lover. Visit zoo.org/giftmembership to buy for yourself, family or friends today.

4. An Unforgettable Up-close Experience

The zoo's Wild Meet and Greet experience lets you mingle with your favorite ambassador animals! You and a small group (up to 15 people) will have an up-close encounter with one of the zoo's wildlife superstars. Choose which birds, mammals or reptiles to invite to your get-together at zoo.org/meetandgreet

5. Northwest Appreciation

Gift a whole year of NW-inspired prompts, adventures and tips for making the most out of their love for nature and the outdoors. Cost, $0. Wander over to zoo.org/nw and choose your own adventure as you find ways to discover, recover and coexist in the Northwest.
